1st MARMS.

Dear Grandma..

It was fun seeing Dad again in London and I spent Sunday and Monday with him. On Sunday we drove to the country and spent it with Mr Bristow. He took us out on one of his old-fashioned coaches with horses and after that gave us a beautiful lunch. Then we went for a ride in his Rolls out to see a boat.

Thank-you very much for the candies, actually I'm eating one right now. I am really glad that you are now better.

When I saw Dad he told me that you had been very nice and had given him some money to take me out to lunch or dinner, but we didn't have and chance because Uncle Peter took us to his club on Monday. Dad used the money to buy me a ~~calc~~ calculator - one of those small computers - which I can use in math and Physics. I have already used it alot. other people have them aswell, they are a great help in doing calculations in Physics with funny constants.

Thank-you very much.

Stay well; love

John.

Dear Mom,

Well, now there are nine days and counting. I hope you arrived home safely. Did Valerie and Auntie Carol get off alright? I didn't hear from them when they were in ~~Rugby~~ England.

Did you enjoy dinner with the Baders on Monday Night. I was playing my drums on Sunday morning almost all morning as there was No morning chapel - we had evensong instead.

It is too bad that not only will I be unable to make a kite this year, I will also not be home until the late afternoon of Good Friday. I'd like Dad to get me an earlier flight.

We just went on to summer time and it was started to snow. Today, for instance, it would snow very hard for 15 mins and then be sunny for 30 mins. And this went on all day. We had our house plays on Saturday night. There were so many mistakes. There's one scene where Iggy throws a tennis ball on from off stage, and its supposed to represent that someone had just finished playing tennis, well the ball was thrown on and it went too far and hit a lady in the audience on the head.

oh well got to go.
see you later
love Tom.

Dear Mum,

Well Half-term is now over and we have embarked on the second half of the term. How still haven't told how the boats doing and if it will be fix by the summer.

The 'O' levels and 'A' levels started to day but my economics 'A' level is not until June 30th, 3 weeks from now. I am just taking some time off ~~this~~ from doing my ~~my~~ Economics notes to write.

I enjoyed my half-term I went to see a concert given by 'Status Quo' at the Empire pool it was for out worn people screaming and stamping.

I spent the first 2 nights with Jen in the flat behind Fortinome Mansions and the third with another friend - Harold Chaudhary - up in High Gate, he's a really nice guy.

Anyway he's got and Uncle who knows Jim Zuill - he said, "he was a Harvard man, short and pipe smoking type" Anyway he said he was going to give me a little note for him. His name was KAISER RASHEED. We know Jim Zuill don't we.

Graham must be well into his

O levels by now; how is he doing?
Dont forget to make a bike appointment for me ~~when~~ for about a week after I get home.

School is still fine and I am working hard. I got 2 telegrams for my birthday and card from Grandma & Grandpa Ross. Did you get to call me on Monday night.

Love John

Dear Grandma!

Well today I have been 17 for a week. Thanks alot for the telegram I was really pleased to get it, in fact the housemaster brought it up to me in the dormitory because I had just got back from my half term.

I had a very good half-term in London I went to see a rock concert and spent the rest of the time in the parks because it was so hot — one of those heat waves in England — up to about 80°.

I have been playing my drum alot — as usual — I do alot because it gives me time to relax for a while.

A friend and I are diving for the school. He and I go swimming quite alot — everyday.

Tomorrow I am going to London for the afternoon with two friends, we managed to persuade the school to allow us to go for a general studies project.

I suppose Graham is now swelling his 'O'levels and Valerie too has got exams, I suppose that's why I didn't get many letters recently. Well how are you Grandma, I hope you are feeling well, and having fun. I have got my Geramics 'o' level in 2 weeks so I guess I had better do some work.

See you soon

Hi Everyone.

As you might of guessed, my first question is, what happened to the boat? All I can say is that you better have it fixed by 13th July. I just had my half-term report. It was fairly good. Maths was excellent, Economics was good but said I should do more work if I want a good grade at 'A' level, And the Physic said that the prospect of 'A' level was now [redacted] foreseeable. Other wise there is not much to say.

We had a fire practice the other day → or rather night. At 1 o'clock Bockney rang the alarm. God I was tired.

Thanks to you people I am still in school today — Thursday — it was the bxx parents day and all the bxx could go off with their parents but mine couldn't be bothered to come — oh well. Actually Bockney said I could leave today if I wanted and I was going to spend the night with another friend before meeting Glen but I decided to stay the night in school and get some work done.

Dont forget to make an appointment for my bike, about a week after I get home.

oh well see you soon

Love Tina

Dear Mum.

Everytime I write a letter to you I always forget it was only yesterday that I wrote, oh well. School is getting boring now everybody is waiting for exams except me and my year we are right between O'levels and 'A' levels and so I have to keep on working to the bitter end.

The weather is now much better than it was — not too hot and not too cold. On Tuesday I went to London with a friend, supposedly to do some research on my general studies project. When we got to the place we had races around the centre in the motorised wheelchairs

Summer dress has been declared, which means that after morning lessons we can take our jackets off and leave them in the house. What are the temperatures like in Bermuda now. Is the boat fixed and back in the water, it should be by now. It's been a long time since Dad saw it sinking, what was wrong with it anyway.

Nothing much is happening up here, there is no outstanding news, I don't think. I am just about to go to chapel now, before lessons. The work is beginning to pile down with my 'O' level but it is still within manageable distance.

Anyway I'll see you soon
